

The INCOBRA consortium is pleased to publish the list of the 5 Bilateral Cooperation Networks selected to participate in INCOBRA. The evaluation of the eligible proposals received was carried out in two phases. Following the first stage, based on the scores awarded, 39 proposals were then selected to be reviewed by an external evaluator in the second stage. The final score was calculated taking into account both evaluation scores.

The list of the 5 selected applications are as follows:

Name of the organisation	Country	Name of the network	Contact person of the network/consortium
Public Health England	UK	Brazil-EU sexually transmitted infections network (STI-net)	Gwenda Hughes
University of Nottingham	UK	PEARL – Precise position Estimation for Applications in Real-time at Brazilian Latitudes	Marcio Aquino
Universidade de Sao Paulo	Brazil	Nanotechnology principles applied to agro-industrial wastes and by-products for improved performance of nonconventional materials and sustainable housing - NANO-NOCMAT	Holmer Savastano Junior
Instituto Superior Técnico (IST)	Portugal	Network on Intelligent Urban Mobility and Accessibility Research – NIUMAR	Camila Soares Henrique Fontenele Garcia
BMMO (Beneficial Microorganisms of Marine Organisms) network	Brazil	BMMO (Beneficial Microbes of Marine Organisms) Network	Raquel Peixoto
